To Whom it May Concern

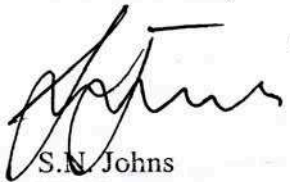

During the last quarter of 2004, White and Case moved their headquarters from Moorgate to Lion Plaza, London. As part of the refurbishment of the Lion Plaza building, Able Data were contracted to install 6,000 Cat6 outlets over four floors. Able Data pre-built and pre-terminated the majority of the outlets looms off site, a method which allowed them to substantially reduce the site installation time and to exercise excellent quality control.

Since moving into Lion Plaza, we have found Able Data to be both helpful and accommodating. Cabling additions have been implemented by the original installation engineering, who have the advantage of being familiar with our site and methods.

The end result has been the installation of a cabling system of outstanding reliability and neatness. White and Case now have a state of the art structured cabling system which will prove an asset for many years to come.

In summary, I have no hesitation in recommending the cabling services of Able Data to other prospective clients.

Yours faithfully
